From its origin in 1878 as a one-person law office, the firm of Goodsill Anderson Quinn & Stifel, a Limited Liability Law Partnership LLP, has grown into one of the largest law firms in Hawaii.

With more than 70 attorneys located in downtown Honolulu, Goodsill offers knowledge and experience in all aspects of law, including business and securities law, banking, real estate, tax, trusts and estates, public utilities, immigration, international transactions and civil litigation. In addition, the firm's attorneys have expertise in such specialized areas as mergers and acquisitions, environmental law, antitrust, aviation, admiralty, international trade, labor and employment, media, technology, start-ups, venture financing and health law.

Goodsill attorneys provide innovative, solutions-oriented legal and general business counsel to an impressive list of domestic and international clients. The firm is the proud home to more of the attorneys voted Hawaii's "Best Lawyers" by their peers in the legal community than any other firm in the State.

Goodsill's role in the Hawaii community extends well beyond the courtroom and boardroom. The firm's attorneys have served as Governor of the State, Associate Justice of the Hawaii Supreme Court, and, most recently, Chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. In addition, Goodsill attorneys actively participate as volunteers and board members of numerous charitable and professional organizations and educational institutions, as well as various governmental advisory boards.

The firm's international practice has a strong focus on the Asia-Pacific region. Goodsill regularly assists clients in all aspects of their business in the Asia-Pacific region, including transactional and operational matters, and judicial, administrative and arbitration proceedings. A number of the firm's attorneys speak, read and write several languages, including Japanese, Cantonese and French.
